The News.

There is a rumor in our dispatches, not well authenticated, that Sherman had three days hard fighting at Branchville. The rebel papers confirm the report of the evacuation of Branchville, but say nothing of a fight. They say also that on Tuesday last there was a strong Union column within a few miles of Augusta, and Sherman's advance was threatening Columbia. The rebels say they will fight at the latter place.

The operations of the rebels Kirby Smith and Price in the trans-Mississippi department are given in the dispatches. Maximilian has undertaken to return rebel refugees to the Confederate army. It will prove a serious thing for that upstart Emperor to carry out.

President Lincoln issues his proclamation convening the United States Senate in extraordinary session on the 4th of March next—probably to act upon a reorganization of the cabinet.

Gold closed at 2.04 1/2.

THE MILWAUKEE NEWS unblushingly asserts that Mr. Lincoln can have peace and a restoration of the Union by simply guaranteeing to the Southern people the rights of self-government. The zeal of the News in the cause of Jeff. Davis, ought to make it good authority upon all matters relating to Southern feeling; but such is not the fact. On the contrary, the News is most unscrupulously whenever it alludes to the subject of the late peace negotiations. Judah P. Benjamin, one of the members of the rebel cabinet, in a recent public speech upon this very question, said the instructions to Messrs. Stephens, Hunter and Campbell, were in writing and in these words: "You will go forward and confer with the enemy upon the means to restore peace to the two countries."

And Mr. Benjamin further states that "none of us for a moment dreamed of reconstruction."

And yet the News has the brazen effrontery to declare that its friends, the rebels, are willing to return to the Union if Mr. Lincoln would only let them.

Veracious News!

A notice of the wholesale swindling of the government and the people by numerous bounty-brokers of New York has already been referred to in our dispatches. Colonel Baker, a Government detective, arrested and sent to the Old Capitol prison twenty-seven of these brokers, and others who have been engaged for eighteen months in enlisting bounty-jumpers and aiding them in deserting after their arrival in camp, and by forging certificates of enlistment and obtaining credit on them at the Provost Marshal-General's office. Several of these desperate men have thus made from $50,000 to $250,000 by such frauds. One of them has by his bank $45,000; another, a hackman, has realized $200,000. Another has been enabled to purchase a farm in New Jersey at $14,000. By the aid of corrupt enforcers they have been enabled to enlist persons physically unfit for the service, and by buying guardians they have enlisted boys of fifteen. It is alleged that United States civil officers have winked at these frauds. Colonel Baker thinks that fully two-thirds of the recent credits are based on these operations, and he insists that Marshal Fry's demand for 21,000 men is not unjust for New York city.

THE REPORT of a movement to restore the state of Georgia to its proper relations to the republic is reiterated, and it is asserted that union meetings have already been held in at least nineteen counties. The state legislature has just re-assembled, and is expected to consider the question of restoring the state to the Union. Governor Brown is believed to be favorable to this movement.

TRAVELERS from the east state, that New York was, last week, visited by a snow storm of unparalleled proportions. The snow is three feet deep and the trains on all the roads were blocked up for days. The storm extended as far west as Cleveland, and lasted three days.

WHEN President Lincoln, and General Grant and Burnside entered Ford's theatre one night last week, the orchestra struck up "Hail to the Chief," the audience rose and cheered vociferously, and the performance on the stage was interrupted for several minutes.

CHARLESTON.—The Madison Journal publishes the following extract of a letter written by a former resident of that place: "I had a long conversation yesterday with a federal spy who has just returned from Charleston. He says that the grade of the rebellion will be in our possession in about three weeks; that the authorities there have no idea of being away from the place, and are sending away everything possible, and have constructed a causeway over which to retreat when they evacuate the city. He predicts a battle at Branchville but says that after that they will make no resistance, and cannot if they would, as their communication will be cut off; and at Branchville he thinks the resistance will not be very stubborn. No one here seems to doubt that Charleston will be in our possession within a month. This is cheering and strengthening my opinion that the end is near. Six months more and Jeff. Davis will have his letters in Mexico or Europe."

The Legislature of Illinois adjourned sine die, on the 16th inst.

Dr. Garnet in the Capitol.

At an early hour yesterday morning, the Hall of Representatives was filled with a mixed audience of black and white, who assembled for the purpose of listening to the sermon of Rev. R. H. Garnet, the first colored man whose voice has ever been heard in the nation's council chamber. He spoke in this eventful age that will not soon be forgotten. How it will gladden the sainted souls of an Adams, a Giddings, and a Lovejoy, to know that their fervent prayers to the Lord of Sabaoth have been so early heeded!

Dr. Garnet stood up in all the dignity of his manhood, and invoked the Divine blessing on our President, our army and navy; for what has been done in atonement for the nation's sin; for the recognition of the rights of man, and of the fatherhood of Jehovah. He prayed to be thankful for having his home in a Christian land, but alluded in a feeling manner to the pathway of blood and the furnace of trial through which his people had passed, in which the cross would be destroyed, and the jewels would be preserved at last.

A choir from the Presbyterian colored church was in attendance, and made sweet melody to the beautiful sentiment:

"Arise, my soul, shake off thy tears."

And all this while but two years ago the crime of slavery put a seal upon those same lips!

The sermon was quite equal to the occasion, and would have done no discredit to the ablest divine. It was a striking argument against the wrong of enslaving his people, and he drew numerous parallels from history, as well as quoted ample authority from the Bible, in proof of his position. The Scribes and Pharisees had their prototype in the slaveholders, who always preach purity, holiness, peace, etc., but practice the opposite. The infamous system had, in a single year, dragged 300,000 poor souls from their native land—not to a pagan or heathen country, but to this boasted land of the free. Against this great sin we were now waging the bloodiest war ever recorded in the annals of time.

As he stood in the Speaker's place with the full length portrait of Washington adorning the wall upon his right, and that of Lafayette upon his left, he appealed as authority to both that our land was made for free men and women, and in a most eloquent strain he paid a beautiful tribute to the spirits of Washington, Jefferson, Adams and the hosts of freedom's champions, who, if they looked down upon the scene of this day since in that hall when the great million were consumed by sinning that sinners, must have responded with the angel choir, a benediction and a shout.

His hatred of slavery was not theoretical. The first object his eyes ever looked upon was a slave mother. With all the energy he possessed, he could pronounce slavery an accursed thing. Every slave kitchen was a burying ground, and every man and woman a tomb-stone.

Still he was not asking for any special legislation about the black man. He simply wanted to be made equal before the law, and he should be left to work out his own destiny. He should leave him then to become his own architect, but don't oppress him by class legislation. He then hoped they would take a higher stand. Eternal justice holds a heavy mortgage against us—that must be paid before atonement will be complete. Slavery has had a fair trial—let it die.

This is but a faint sketch of his able discourse—and several times during its delivery, the audience were so thrilled by his words, that his loggia was with difficulty that their enthusiasm was restrained, a half stifled applause was at times discernable.—Washington Chronicle.

GRANT'S LAST MOVEMENT.—An army correspondent of the New York Times writes in relation to Grant's last movement:

"The last movement can be reckoned in many respects, as clear and substantial gain. In the first place, we have extended our lines both southward and westward, holding fast and strengthening the new ground thus occupied, and weakening the enemy by compelling him to lengthen his lines also. We now command completely the Boydon Plank Road, one of the main arteries which the existence of Petersburg depended. We have, by this change of ground, not only got so much nearer to the Southside Railroad, without which Petersburg could not hold out a week, but get away from all those impenetrable little swamps and creeks, which so harassed us in our old position, to where we can now sweep with irresistible certainty of success upon the long covered communication of the enemy. We have done more than this; we have captured Lee employed, in looking after the safety of his own army here, as to prevent him from sending any forces away, to assist his people elsewhere against the overwhelming odds which are slowly but surely surging northward to engulf them. If the bare possession of Richmond and Petersburg formed the whole task which Gen. Grant has marked out for himself, he might, any time during the last three or four months, have gained the glittering prizes by main force. But I imagine that results far more deep and comprehensive are occupying the mind of our Commander, and that when his whole scheme is laid before the world, and people realize how the most distant, important, but seemingly incongruous movements have, by the masterly guidance of one single intellect, been made to converge to and culminate in one tremendous and irresistible climax, all the honors hitherto heaped upon Gen. Grant will be as nothing to what will then be showered upon him by a grateful and admiring country."

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY CLAIMS FOR

Charleston the point of the cause, and that that the Confederacy must win or fall. As soon as Gen. Sherman gets possession of that place the rebel papers will all go to work to prove that its capture is a blessing in disguise.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Philadelphia, Feb. 17.—The Bulletin's special Washington dispatch has the following: A Richmond dispatch of the 15th, has the following: We have for some days been in doubt as to what force Sherman had sent in the direction of Augusta. This doubt has at length been solved. It seems that while his main army advanced toward Branchville and Charleston, he sent Kilpatrick and his cavalry to demonstrate against Augusta and to break up the Charleston and Augusta Railroad. From official dispatches received at the War Department, we learn that last Friday Gen. Wheeler attacked Kilpatrick at Aiken on the Charleston and Augusta Road, twenty miles northeast of Augusta, and after a considerable engagement drove him five miles in the direction of Branchville. Our troops have by this time no doubt, fallen back to the Congaree river. If so, Kilpatrick will be able to shell Columbia from the south bank. We also understand that the Congaree and its tributary Saluda are both easily fordable above the city. This dispels us to believe that our troops will seek to give battle before crossing the Congaree.

The Richmond Whig says we learn upon good authority, that our forces are falling back before Sherman's advancing column, in the direction of Columbia, South Carolina, and will probably make a stand on the Santee.

We learn that a naval force consisting of 12 officers and 100 men, under command of Lieut. Tacy, were recently captured by the Yankees near Smithfield, Isle of Wight County, Virginia. Among the party was Assistant Engineer Robinson, of the James River fleet, who was married the night before his departure.

A heavy fire occurred at Danville, Va., on Wednesday last. The estimated loss exceeds $200,000.

General Braxton Bragg is at present in Richmond.

New York, Feb. 18.—Late rebel papers contain some very interesting disclosures regarding corruption in Jeff. Davis' Cabinet, and gives an insight into the causes of its recent dissolution.

A committee of the Richmond Congress has presented Mr. Sedden, late War Secretary, as guilty of previous misconduct, and Richmond journals make statements which are to his guilt.

We have also some developments regarding Hood's Tennessee campaign. The Selma, Alabama, Mississippi says that 2 regiments of his army returned to Corinth with 34 men left out of 1,300.

The Richmond Examiner announces that the negroes have caught quite a military fever in that city, and that they are already forming organizations for service in the rebel armies.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17, v. v.—Special to the Press from Norfolk says: I have just seen a Captain Gross, a deserter, from the rebel service. He left Richmond on Saturday, and said that the authorities had ordered all work on the monitors at Richmond to cease. A double tender was blown up by them on Thursday last. He says they are about to evacuate Richmond.

The Richmond Sentinel says: "Mass meetings have been called in Petersburg and Lynchburg to express the views of the people on the degrading terms offered by Lincoln. All our exchanges speak with one voice of the Fort Monroe negotiations and the duties it has disclosed to us, except the Raleigh Progress and the Raleigh Standard, which are still hanging out the white flag for surrender. The Augusta Chronicle will, doubtless, also take the same ground."

The Engineer says: "While the blockade is effective against England and France, it is open to Yankees," and says "the effect of trading permits would, at points in our possession, enable us to do all the trading to the exclusion of foreign nations." They would prefer to purchase elsewhere, but would take from Yankees rather than do without.

The Columbia Guardian of a recent date says: "Sherman elated by recent successes, feels confident of marching through South Carolina. We are willing he should hug the delusion to his heart, as he will fall with greater when his disgrace comes upon him. We too indulge in feelings of confidence in our strength, based upon far different and much stronger grounds. Sherman's army entered this State with threats openly and defiantly made of the vengeance which should mark his march. South Carolina is not to be intimidated by the fulminations of a brutal foe, and we are mistaken if South Carolina has forgotten how to treat the violence of hirings."

FROM SHERMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

New York, Feb. 18.—All doubts regarding the occupation of Branchville, S. C., by Gen. Sherman, seem dispelled by the patches from one of the Herald's Ft. Fisher correspondents. The announcement of its capture on the 12th inst., after three days of hard fighting, was brought to Smithville, N. C., on the 12th inst. by a courier, who at great peril rode across the country with a dispatch from Sherman to Admiral Porter. Wilmington papers and refugees who have reached Smithville confirm this statement, and Richmond journals of Wednesday last say that the War Department has official announcement of the evacuation of Branchville which was consequent on the occupation of Orangeburg north of it on the railroad leading to Columbia, by a large force of Gen. Sherman's infantry, but they do not mention any fighting in the vicinity. They report however that Kilpatrick reached a point within ten miles of Augusta, Ga., on the 10th, and was attacked by Wheeler and driven five miles with considerable loss.

On Tuesday last they say there was again a Union column within a few miles of Augusta, and more important still, they say that on Wednesday Sherman's advance had reached the south bank of the Congaree within a few miles of Columbia, which is situated on the north bank of that river to which side the rebels had fallen back. A battle is considered imminent.

FROM WASHINGTON.

OFFICIAL.—WASHINGTON, FEB. 18.—DEPARTMENT OF STATE.—By the President of the United States.

A PROCLAMATION.

By the President

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

W. H. SEWARD, Sec'y of State.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

New York, Feb. 18.—Additional during exploits of the intrepid young commander Cushing, are described in the Herald's Ft. Fisher correspondence. On the 18th inst., with about 15 men he captured the little town of Shalotte, garrisoned by 100 rebels, held it for several hours, during which he destroyed large stores of arms, supplies, provisions, and about eighty bales of cotton, and sent the whole to the sea. On the night of the 10th he made a reconnaissance of Cape Fear river, actually penetrating up to the wharves of Wilmington, where he remained long enough to gain much valuable information. He discovered the rebel pirate Chickamauga sunk in the channel of the river. The next evening, with four boat crews he went up to the rebel fort Anderson and managed to get close enough under its wall to hear an officer supposed to be Gen. Bragg, bargaining his men on the last ditch and last stroke for Southern independence.

New York, Feb. 18.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says he knows positively that formal propositions have been made to France and England, by rebel authorities, with the object of securing recognition on the basis that slavery shall be abolished and advantages granted to the recognizing countries, but these propositions have not and from present appearances, will not be accepted.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 18.—Gold stagnant. No speculative movement, and importers' demands nominal. The price has fluctuated between 203 1/2 and 204 1/2.

New York, Feb. 18.—Rumors have been granted in the case of the late Lake Erie rebel pirate Capt. Bell, and he will not be hanged on Governor's Island to-day as at first decided.

FROM CANADA.

Quebec, Feb. 18.—The House in committee last night adopted the appropriation of $38,000 for expenses of volunteers sent to the frontier to prevent raids upon the United States, also an appropriation of $30,000 to make good the money improperly returned to St. Albans raiders.

Admitted to the Bar.—Mr. A. Foster, William Smith, Jr., and Roswell Cary, all of this city, were admitted to the bar today.

Good Evening.—We learn from Capt. Putnam that the prospects now are for all the towns in the district will fill their quota and thus obviate the necessity of a draft.

Rowdyism.—Some rowdy fellows, last night assaulted the guest shop of Mr. Reum on the bridge, smashing in the windows and throwing the sleigh of the proprietor into the river. No clue has been obtained to the perpetrators of the outrage.

Fourth Ward.—There will be a meeting of the Fourth Ward Draft Association on Saturday evening, February 18th, at the Court Room. It is desired that all shall be present as a report of the committee will be made, and a statement of recruiting, precisely at 7 o'clock.

CONCERT IN CONTEMPLATION.—We understand that the singing class of Mr. Bennett intends giving a concert about the second week in March, assisted by the best musical talent in the city. This class numbering about sixty members, has made great progress under its able teacher, and our citizens have just reason to expect a concert of unusual merit. Should the proposed entertainment come off, we believe it will be most generously patronized.

PITIFUL SIGHT.—A temperance lecture of the most eloquent description was delivered this afternoon in front of Webb & Co's store. A young woman with a small child in her arms, fell suddenly forward into a puddle of water, and being helped to her feet it was found she was drunk. The bystanders letting go their hold of her she fell backward, sitting directly into a pool of water again. She was helped to the sidewalk, where she and her child sat shivering in their wet garments, until the officers took her away to more comfortable quarters, she being too much intoxicated to tell where she belonged. Comment on such an exhibition in the streets of our city in broad daylight, is unnecessary.

REMEMBER the Fourth Ward meeting at the Court Room this evening.

LOW—Mr. H. O. Clark advertises some lost money in another column.

ADMITTED TO THE BAR.—Ira A. Foster, William Smith, Jr., and Roswell Cary, all of this city, were admitted to the bar today.

GOOD ENOUGH.—We learn from Capt. Putnam that the prospects now are that all the towns in the district will fill their quota and thus obviate the necessity of a draft.

ROWDYISM.—Some rowdy or rowdies, last night assaulted the meat shop of Mr. Reum on the bridge, smashing in the windows and throwing the sleigh of the proprietor into the river. No clue has been obtained to the perpetrators of the outrage.

FOURTH WARD.—There will be a meeting of the Fourth Ward Draft Association on Saturday evening, February 18th, at the Court Room. It is desired that all shall be present as a report of the committee will be made, and a statement of recruiting, precisely at 7 o'clock.

G. S. STRASSBERGER, President.

J. H. WINGATE, Secretary.

Feb. 17th, 1905.

CONCERT IN CONJUNCTION.—We understand that the singing class of Mr. Bennett intends giving a concert about the second week in March, assisted by the best musical talent in the city. This class numbering about sixty members, has made great progress under its able teacher, and our citizens have just reason to expect a concert of unusual merit. Should the proposed entertainment come off, we believe it will be most generously patronized.

PITTABLE SIGHT.—A temperance lecture of the most eloquent description was delivered this afternoon in front of Webb & Co's store. A young woman with a small child in her arms, fell suddenly forward into a puddle of water, and being helped on to her feet it was found she was drunk. The bystanders letting go their hold of her she fell backward, sitting directly into a pool of water again. She was helped to the sidewalk, where she and her child sat shivering in their wet garments, until the officers took her away to more comfortable quarters, she being too much intoxicated to tell where she belonged. Comment on such an exhibition in the streets of our city in broad daylight, is unnecessary.

A Call upon Judge Noggle.

ON ALL sides we hear the merits of the Grover & Baker Sewing-Machine extolled. The ladies declare it the "very best," and prove it to us in so many undeniable facts that we are bound to confess our conviction of the truth of the declaration. What other machine will embroider so beautifully, braid so elegantly, hem so faultlessly, quilt so evenly, stitch so accurately, gather so regularly, operate so easily? None, we conscientiously affirm.
